EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Darren Crew (#37,806) on 11/21/07.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the claim:

In claim 1, line 5, after "data", "such as a telephone number for the mobile phone apparatus" has been deleted.

In claim 1, line 8, after "information", "such as an owner name or user name of each of the plurality" has been deleted.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claim 1, Toshiaki et al. (JP-2000-295661) teach although ringing for each of the groups can be set, the user of the mobile phone apparatus must change the settings with respect to each of the groups separately. By adding a weighted numerical value to each of the groups, the mobile phone apparatus can ring only the groups to each of which a weighted numerical value higher than a numerical value of settings for incoming call is added. However, in the case where persons or groups from each of whom the user wants to receive a telephone call are changed in response to the usage conditions of the user, it is required to change the settings of a plurality of individuals or groups in each case, and it is impossible to change the settings depending on the situation by a simple operation. Raith (US 6,385,461) also teaches alerting type to the priority of the group call (col. 10, lines 18-24). Raith, like Toshiaki et al, in the case where persons or groups from each of whom the user wants to receive a telephone call are changed in response to the usage conditions of the user, it is required to change the settings of a plurality of individuals or groups in each case, and it is impossible to change the settings depending on the situation by a simple operation.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
